NAZIS REPORT CAPTURE OF ENGLISH ISLANDS; HUNGARIANS MOBILIZED ON RUMANIAN FRONTIER

Youth Drowns in River Near Claridon

SWEPT AWAY TO DEATH AS RESCUE NEARS

Charles LeRoy Showers oses Life While Swimming in Olentangy.

Da [illegible] ed in the muddy wat [illegible] of the swollen Olentangy riv- [illegible] yesterday afternoon for Charles LeRoy Showers 17 of near Claridon who was drowned while swimming after rescue efforts of his brother in-law Paul George 27 of Marion, proved futile

The two had gone for a dip in the river only a half-mile from the Showers home and about three miles south of Claridon They left the residence at 3 o'clock, accompanied by the victim's wife James C Showers

The victim was swept away by the swift moving current on his first plunge into the water His companion dived in and succeeded in bringing him back close to the shore The father made a futile attempt to reach the pair from the bank but young Showers apparently semi conscious struggled free of his brother in-law's grasp

Mr Showers did succeed in reaching his son-in-law He helped him to the shore where the swimmer collapsed Charles body was swept back into the muddy current and carried downstream as the father watched helplessly from the bank He went to summon aid and in less than an hour neighbors were searching the river with boats

Reached With Rake

The body was located about 300 three and one-half hours after Showers entered the river It was found by William Kraner a neighbor who was probing along the river bank with an improvised rake The tool caught the youth's ankle and Kraner was assisted in removing the body by Earl Kraner also a neighbor and a friend of the victim

The brother - in - law Paul George who resides on Fourth street in Marion, today related details of the tragedy The river, it said was considerably above normal and was approximately 0 feet wide at the point where they went swimming The spot is a favorite swimming hole of youths in the vicinity

Ordinarily the water is only four or five feet deep, but recent rains brought it to a depth of nearly eight feet he related, he expressed surprise that young Showers waded directly into the stream until the water reached his knees and then dived toward the center of the stream When he reached the swirling current he was carried downstream and only a muffled cry warned his companions that he was in danger

Almost Effect Rescue

George who had been standing on the bank preparing to dive announced that the youth was in difficulty He dived in and swam about 100 feet downstream to reach the struggling swimmer He managed to pull him back toward the shore but a barefoot bank prevented him from completing the rescue successfully George today expressed the opinion that he too would have been swept away by the current if his father-in-law had not been able to lend aid

Marion city firemen county authorities and state highway patrolmen joined friends and neighbors at the scene when news of the drowning was reported Lt. Brownlee and George Fetters city firemen answered the call with an artificial respirator They remained there until nearly 8 p. m. when all hope of locating and

Phillips and Whitt Get Life Terms for Holdup

Marion Men Silent as Judge Refuses Mercy Plea in $30,110 Cincinnati Bank Robbery Case; To Begin Terms Thursday;

Imprisonment in Ohio penitentiary for the rest of their natural lives was the punishment meted out to Dan Phillips 33 of Marion and Elmer H Whitt 27 of Columbus former Marionite when they were sentenced this morning for the $30110 robbery of the Central Trust Co branch bank at Cincinnati May 28

Neither showed any emotion as sentence was passed by Common Pleas Judge Dudley M Outcalt who overruled motions for a new trial The men were convicted last Tuesday before Judge Outcalt after they waived trial by jury

Both men answered with a curt "No" when asked by the judge if they had anything to say before he pronounced sentence according to Associated Press reporters who were on hand in the court room Defense counsel gave no indication of plans for a further appeal, it was reported

The judge earlier had heard a plea from their co-counsel Gran Mouser Jr of Marion for a recommendation of mercy because of the lack of criminal records and their youth Judge Outcalt replied that he was not inclined to extend mercy on the basis of the evidence submitted

Wives of both men were present in the courtroom when sentences were passed but like their husbands appeared stoical and without emotion They also were on hand during the trial which lasted only through morning sessions last Monday and Tuesday The trial closed swiftly when the defense rested without summoning a single witness

After being sentenced the men were returned to their quarters in the Hamilton county jail They probably will be taken to the penitentiary Thursday by Hamilton county sheriff deputies it was reported

New Statute Used

Phillips and Whitt may become eligible for parole but it is unlikely that their release will be considered before they have served 15 years according to informal legal opinion expressed today at Cincinnati and reported by The Associated Press. They were sentenced under a new statute which provides life imprisonment, unless mercy is recommended in which event the sentence must be not less than 20 years

Other developments in the case included the announcement by Carl W Rich Hamilton county prosecutor that two other indictments against the pair will be held in abeyance The indictments charge armed robbery generally which carries a sentence of 10 to 25 years and automobile stealing The last charge is based on the theft of an automobile belonging to Frank Jackson of Cincinnati May 22 which is declared to have been the car used by the bank robbers in making their escape

Since Whitt and Phillips have lost their initial fight to set aside the conviction copies of the remaining indictments will be sent to the penitentiary with their commitments Prosecutor Rich said This will effectually prevent their release he pointed out.

File Attachments

Another development was the action of the Fidelity & Deposit Co of Maryland which seeks to attach Columbus property belonging to Whitt and Marion property owned by Phillips

A $15 000 residence at Columbus said to be owned by Whitt, was listed in the company's writ which said the men had robbed the First National Bank of South Charleston W Va., of $19 227 A copy of the writ was received here today by Sheriff Fred F Miller and local representatives of the Maryland company, reported that initial efforts to locate property owned by Phillips were unsuccessful The Maryland company states that it had indemnified the West Virginia bank and is entitled to a judgment for the amount taken in the robbery

HUNGARY CALLS MEN TO ARMS

Budapest Sources Say Rumania on Verge of Collapse; Travel Curtailed.

By The Associated Press

BUDAPEST July 1—The mobilization of a Hungarian army corps on the Rumanian frontier accompanied by the heavy calling of reservists throughout Hungary was followed tonight by an official news agency announcement that the general impression is that Rumania is on the point of collapse

Railway passenger traffic was cut to a minimum to facilitate military concentration operations

The official agency announcement that Rumania apparently is crumbling was linked with the consistently reiterated official view that such a collapse would call for the immediate entry of the Hungarian army into transylvania to protect a Magyar minority there of almost 2 000 000

At noon today, police visited all restaurants, cafes and hotels in Budapest forbidding the sale of any alcoholic beverage for four days.

An official interpretation of this was not immediately forthcoming But it was pointed out in military quarters that such procedure is customarily one of the first steps preceding general mobilizati

GUERNSEY AND JERSEY TAKEN BY AIR TROOPS

British Previously Had Evacuated Isles, Holding Them To Be Indefensible.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN July 1 — German troops have occupied the British channel islands of Guernsey and Jersey the high command announced tonight.

It said Nazi forces landed on Guernsey yesterday and Jersey today

Two British fighting planes were shot down in these operations it said

It was announced that the occupation was achieved by a coup de main of the German air force

(These two islands which the British previously had declared demilitarized lie much closer to the German - occupied French coast than to England and probably were considered undefensible by the British command

(Guernsey 90 miles from Plymouth is only half as far from the west coast of the Cotentin peninsula at the tip of which is Cherbourg Jersey is 20 miles southeast of Guernsey

(Indication that further Channel islands may have been lost to the Germans came in an announcement by Western Union that telegraphic communication with Jersey Guernsey and also Alderney and Sark had been suspended)

BRITISH REPORT VICTORIES IN AIR

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 1—Britain today claimed double success in aerial warfare with Germany—in downing a flock of Messerschmitt fighters in France and driving off Nazi raiders stabbing sporadically at the island kingdom

British fighters ranging over France bagged five Messerschmitts and 'probably destroyed another seven, said the air ministry

(The German high command declared 18 British planes had been shot down in a series of raids over Germany)

Air defenders of the British Isles shot down one bomber and drove off the rest of the Nazi raiders flying over in forays which Neville Chamberlain warned were only the forerunners of a coming attempt at invasion

The bomber crashed into the sea off the northeast English coast Its crew of four floated four and a half hours in a rubber dinghy, then was brought ashore One was wounded

Downs Three Planes

In the dogfights over France the air ministry announced the wing commander of one hurricane fighter formation shot down three German fighters These were among six German planes he met ten miles from the French coast.

Another battle was fought near Bethune France

During the raids on Britain another German bomber was reported at first to have landed in the street in a northeast town, but late was disclosed to have flown low to avoid shell fire and to have been chased out to sea by three Spitfire fighters

ANNENBERG GETS 3 YEARS IN PRISON

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO July 1—M L. Annenberg, who climbed from immigrant newsboy to one of America's wealthiest men, today was sentenced to three years' imprisonment for evading $1,217,296 in federal taxes on his 1936 income

Sentence was imposed on the 62-year-old former racing news magnate by Judge James H. Wilkerson in a courtroom packed to capacity

The judge declared in an 11-page statement that Annenberg's age and the fact that he had pleaded guilty to one count of an indictment, removing the expense of a trial, had been taken into consideration.

Joseph E Hafner, Annenberg's chief bookkeeper who pleaded guilty to aiding and abetting the evasion, was sentenced to five months in the county jail.

French Casualties Listed at Million And Half in War

By The Associated Press

SAN SEBASTIAN Spain July 1—French casualties in the disastrous final month of the war with Germany were estimated unofficially today at 1,500,000 men, most of them listed as dead or missing

It took Adolf Hitler's mechanized army approximately one month to destroy what 60 days ago still was described as the most efficient military machine in the world—the French army—and to over-run and occupy in its blitzkrieg more than half of France

When France decided on June 12 to plead for an armistice the situation was so desperate it is reliably reported that General Weygand told the historic midnight meeting of the French cabinet in a chateau near Tours that the French army had only cartridges enough to last three more days.

MARIONITE STABBED; SUSPECT ARRESTED

Arch Manley Suffers Back Wound in Uptown Quarrel.

Arch Manley, 56, of Travelers Hotel suffered a deep stab wound in the back early yesterday in the climax of an altercation at the Hamburg King on South Main street.

Police are holding a 21-year-old West Side youth in connection with the assault but no charge had been filed against him at noon today

Manley, whose condition was described as 'good by attendants at City hospital today figured in an altercation at the restaurant in which police were told several customers participated Chief Marks said that while he has not completed his investigation of the case he was told that Manley and another man were "dancing' in the restaurant and bumped into several other customers

Several blows were struck and

EXCESS PROFITS TAX ASKED BY PRESIDENT

Steeply Graduated Levy Recommended to Congress.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 1—President Roosevelt asked congress today to enact a 'steeply graduated excess profits tax" applicable to all individuals and corporate organizations 'without discrimination"

The text of the President's message follows

"We are engaged in a great national effort to build up our national defenses to meet any and every potential attack

"We are asking even our humblest citizens to contribute their mite. It is our duty to see that a few do not gain from the sacrifices of the many

"I therefore, recommend to the congress the enactment of a steeply graduated excess profits tax, to be applied to all individuals and all corporate organizations without discrimination"

Mr Roosevelt did not estimate how much revenue an excess profits levy might yield. House Majority Leader Rayburn, who attended the White House conference which preceded the issuance of the President's message, said, however, that the tax would be along the lines of one levied in World war days.

Th tax described would be both a revenue producer and a measure to hold down profits on war time business.

Budapest Acts on Report Neighbor About To Collapse

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 1 — The British ministry of information today issued an official statement that "reports that German troops have landed on the British coast and by parachute in the west midlands are untrue."

• • •

By The Associated Press

GERMAN troops held British soil today for the first time in the war — capturing the English-owned channel islands of Guernsey and Jersey, about 90 miles from Plymouth—to gain still another base for the projected assault on the island kingdom itself

The channel islands virtually emptied of inhabitants a week or more ago, lie southwest of German-occupied Cherbourg.

The Germans said the occupation, long since discounted because the islands were left defenseless, was carried out by a "coup de main of the German air force'—apparently meaning the troops were landed by plane or parachute.

The seizure places Hitler's forces in no closer position for an invasion of Britain than they were already at Calais and other points.

In the war-fevered Balkans, Hungary mobilized troops on the Rumanian frontier and called for reservists throughout the nation while an official Hungarian news agency declared "the general impression is that Rumania is on the point of collapse".

The Hungarian mobilization was seen as a thinly-veiled German counter to Russia's invasion of Rumania, a vital source of supplies for Germany

Hungary claims the full support of both Germany and Italy for any march into Rumania in the event Soviet Russia's armies overrun the limits of ceded territory—Bessarabia and northern Bucovina—established in the agreement between Rumania and Russia.

Frontier 'incidents' between Rumanian and Hungarian troops were said to have prompted the Hungarian mobilization

Evidence of fierce fighting between Rumanian troops and Red Army invaders came to light today as trainloads of Rumanian wounded arrived in Bucharest following reported clashes with Soviet forces on the Prut river

The Russians were described as raining parachute troops on Rumanian soil and landing baby tanks from Soviet "kangaroo" planes

Nazi ire reported aroused by Russian seizure of German-owned materials in Bessarabia

Cites German Interests

Berlin officials while diplomatically scouting any possibility of a German-Russian clash, said Germany's main interest was to prevent any disruption of her supply of vital materials—oil for her mechanized armies and foodstuffs—from Rumania

Nevertheless the Rumanian government already has appealed to Hitler to make Russia live up to last week's ultimatum agreement for ceded territory, thereby giving the Nazi fuehrer an excuse if he wants one, for marching into Rumania against Russia

In any event, Rumania appeared the loser—threatened by an axis-supported Hungarian invasion to stop Russia and by a possible German move to safeguard Nazi interests in Rumania

Balkan capitals reflected mounting nervousness over Russian plans in southeastern Europe today as the Soviet's Red army seized command of the lower Danube river in Rumania, one of Germany's vital supply lines

Coincidentally, other dispatches said Russia demanded that Turkey grant her a share in defense of the Dardnelles key link between the Black sea and the Mediterranean while Germany and Italy are concentrating on the battle against Britain

Lybia Sees Action

A flurry of land and air fighting over the week-end on the Libyian-Egyptian border indicated a faster tempo to the war in the Mediterranean area.

The Italian high command reported the capture of several British positions, with attacks by British motorized units reported beaten off The clashes were officially described as "considerable"

Reports from Khartoum said two British armored cars knifed through Italian defenses on the Eritrea border in East Africa and routed 1,200 cavalrymen with heavy casualties

British RAF bombing planes, striking at Germany in mass attacks in a "warm up' for the expected great battle for Britain roved over the north, west and

Trainloads of Wounded Rumanians Reach Bucharest from Battle Zone

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, July 1—The Rumanian cabinet announced today that Rumania "in renouncing the French-British guarantees of our territorial integrity given April 13, 1939."

• • •

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, July 1—Trainloads of Rumanian wounded arrived in the capital shortly after noon today for hospitalization. They were understood to have been wounded in clashes with Russian troops on the Prut river.

At the same time military quarters declared the probability of further clashes between Rumanian forces was heightened by the fact the Russian army was increasing the tempo of its occupation of ceded Bessarabia and northern Bucovina.

Today, it was reported, parachute troops were "rained" on parts of the two provinces not yet occupied.

But whether fighting still was going on could not be determined. The best available information was that the occupation was proceeding in a more orderly fashion.

The Russians, however, were reported still showing haste

Refugees said Russian state police agents and Soviet shock troops were dropped by parachute in many towns and villages.

Rumanian officials expressed belief this was to round up aristocrats and large landowners and prevent removal of gold and other valuables from the occupied area.

(At Budapest it was reported that a Hungarian army corps was mobilized on the Rumanian frontier in the wake of "incidents" between Rumanian and Hungarian troops Official sources said there had been an exchange of fire between border guards)

As the Russian advance continued, Rumanian police sought to prevent the possibility of rioting.

Thousands of arrests were made in Bucharest and other cities under a new regulation prohibiting citizens from congregating in groups of four or more or assembling in any number of cafes and other public places.

Russian officials returning from the occupied territories declared that Russian military chiefs were condemning Rumanians "en wholesale batches."

They reported refugees had been shot while attempting to sneak through Russian lines into old Rumania.

Willkie Makes Friends and Amazes People By Speaking Out In Business—and Politics

Father Herman Francis Willkie was lawyer, too There were six children

Mother Henrietta Tusch Willkie was one of first women admitted to Indiana bar

He is the first of a series of three articles about the new star in American politics—Wendell L Willkie

* * *

By MORGAN M BEATTY

One day back in 1937 when the New Deal utility scrap was making Washington weather stickier than usual I had to get some information about Commonwealth & Southern the big holding company Wendell L Willkie runs

A utility representative in Washington said

Sorry I can't speak for C & S but I'll pass on your questions

Then the phone rang

This Wendell Willkie said the voice crisp like iceberg lettuce

But I didn't know you were in Washington Mr Willkie

I'm not I'm trapped but when I get a letter I write my side of the case I'm ready to give it to Ickes Shot

Call me any time he finished

And as I wrote my account I pondered on a lot of people have lately That manner of man this Willkie has

He Surprises 'Em All

Willkie's the man who joked about a presidential boom while others were desperately trying to launch theirs He's the fellow who actually shooed away able young men who insisted on throwing up good jobs to help Willkie bring down the moon but finally failed to dissuade them

Willkie's the rough and tumble Hoosier who went to New York a dozen years ago with a chip on his shoulder for bankers and fired all but one out of Commonwealth & Southern swivel chairs Then he turned right around and accepted an invitation to lunch from a group of Morgan partners

(They fooled him for fair Instead of trying to tell him how to run his business on the strength of their small stock holdings in his company they just talked about flowers and the weather And here sat Willkie with a useless chip on his shoulder)

And Wendell Willkie's the man whose slim lively wife had rather just stroll down the street with her husband than do most anything else

The biography broadcast from the Willkie for President headquarters is in the words of William Allen White the slickest literary goose grease that has burdened the second class mail in sometime It skips part of the lofty bolum usually used to doll up a candidate cheerfully paints Willkie in his youth as Peck's Bad Boy whom no mother would take as a model for her son

Typical American Boy

"He was always in trouble" it says fighting tipping over neighbors privies using his Sunday School text cards from the Methodist church to play a gambling game with his five brothers and sisters

But in its more serious passages the campaign biographer is also earnestly eager to give you a portrait of a big shot utility executive who undeniably is a self-made man

It tells you how the ailing B C Cobb executive of Commonwealth called the able lawyer from the middle west to New York at three times his midwest income and in 1933 made Willkie the boss of the whole show at $75 000 a year

No wonder" the biographer adds that Wendell Willkie believes there is still opportunity today in America" From hobo to corporation chief is a long stride If he made it he thinks other men can do as well

"Semi Religious Movement"

But the biography might have left off the next sentence

He has no powerful friends no personal influence no pull"

No man who has done the things he has done or possessed the Willkie fire and dash could help but attract friends from many walks of life as well as make a few enemies along the way

When the Willkie boom was in its infancy an old lady wrote a Philadelphia newspaper that to her way of thinking the Lord had sent us (presumably the Republicans) Wendell Willkie

William L Harman vice-president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works and head of the Pennsylvania Willkie-for-President Clubs added

"I regard this as a semi-religious movement and we are trying to get it on a revival basis To which the Republican convention said Amen

(Tomorrow Willkie the young man about the countryside)

"Shush," she said lazily. "They don't know we're here."

"Hey, Julia!"

There was good-natured im...patience in Mimi's voice but she wasn't the type of person you would describe as good natured. And I don't mean that she was ...peevish. Wistful approaches what I would like to say but that is an overworked word. Mimi's soft mouth was usually curved in a smile. Her violet eyes would light with interest at a word but in their depths was something unsatisfied, some fretting forever ungratified need.

She ... ...oduced me to Sandra and I had time for only a quick survey of the girl I had been wondering about when Jeff in midstroke saw her and dropped his racket. No, impetuous Accidentally. A fact at once apparent to any observer. But he did his best to repair the damage by letting it lie where it fell.

With a self-conscious air, unsmiling, he strode off the court, bent and kissed her awkwardly on the cheek. When he straightened again there was a deep blush under his tan but I was at a loss to name the emotion that caused it.

Colonel Pennant said, "Sandra, my dear," put an arm around her shoulders and gave her a warmer kiss than Jeff's. Then Adam and Gerald Beaufort were being introduced and Sandra and Mimi were the center of attention.

I stepped back to watch, busy reaffirming my first, surprising impression that Sandra Ferguson was not pretty. She wasn't even distinctively homely like Julia, whose strange salty ugliness kept you looking until you grew confused and assessed it as beauty. Sandra's dark eyes were a little small, her straight brown hair, ...die and pinned up with almost Puritan severity, grew a little too low on her forehead. I could see all this even though she was wearing a hat, for the hat was one of those affairs milliners assure you you are amusing when they perch them on top of your defenseless head.

For the rest Sandra's skin was clear, her face nicely shaped and she was slender and small boned. She might so easily have been beautiful, but it was a little puzzling to decide why she wasn't.

And then I looked at those surrounding men and realized that I was trying to use arithmetic to solve a problem that contained an unknown. For if she had no beauty she had something infinitely more to be desired. Something that people have been trying for years to label.

The Lake

"I'm going to the lake," Julia said abruptly. "Want to come?"

I glanced around, he saw an appeal in her eyes and nodded.

"Come in with me while I change. Have you had dinner?"

"I'll pick you up something late," she said indifferently.

No one seemed to notice our departure.

She prowled restlessly about my two rooms while I put on a swimming suit.

"Mimi supervised the decoration of these guest rooms last spring," she confided and I had the impression that she was trying to divert herself rather than me with the impersonal subject. "Not bad are they?"

Better than that. They're sensible as well as attractive—and it's nothing short of genius in the field of decoration. Even the beds are comfortable.

"Well, she didn't actually choose the furniture—the QM furnishes that. I guess the bachelors have about the same. But they don't rate curtains and draperies and rugs—they're supposed to buy their own."

Mimi had done well. There were scatter rugs on the floor of the sitting room and a dust colored broadloom in the bedroom. The tailored curtains were thick enough to insure privacy from the near by street and side draperies of a small patterned green chintz saved it from the institution look that bare painted walls and heavy furniture give to rooms. The bedspreads were of the same green chintz and so were the slip covers for the studio couch and the one easy chair in the sitting room. There were even reading lamps and cushions.

The only change I had made was to move a table to the front window of the sitting room and install on it my typewriter and a litter of manuscripts.

"Wish I could move over here," said Julia with sudden passion, her attempted diversion having led her, as is so often the case, back to the sore subject she had tried to avoid. "Can you imagine what it will be like in that house for the next month?"

"Park here any time you like," I told her. "I work from breakfast until lunch but if you don't talk you won't bother me."

"Thanks." She had paused by my typewriter, was staring moodily at the stack of yellow paper beside it. "You're lucky that you can work anywhere. You're lucky that you can work. I can't do anything. How long are you going to be here?"

"That depends. I've loaned my apartment until the first of September. I could go back and stay with a friend but—well, there's nothing to take me back, and you know Chicago in the summertime."

"Why do you live there?"

"No reason anymore. My kid sister was studying music there but she won a scholarship and she's in New York now with her sponsors getting ready to go abroad."

"Is she your whole family?"

"All but Dad. He's a professor at a small college. I'll probably go back there eventually, but it's pretty dull."

I walked with her to the commanding officer's quarters at the east end of the quadrangle and waited on the veranda while she changed. Then we went down to the lake. The others were still at the club and I thought of them with the virtuous scorn of those who take even the mildest exercise for those, who do not.

The officers' beach was deserted at this hour. We swam out to the float and pulled ourselves up on it and lay still, watching the shadows of trees reach out over the water toward us, away from the fiery sun at their backs. Here the sounds of the post were a memory, overlaid by the gentle lipping of the lake against the float.

Julia said, "I'll ask questions and you answer the ones you want to. O. K.?"

"O. K.," I said, and laughed without reason except that the lipping water was a mirthful sound.

Who's talking through whose hat?

IN THE LAST FEW MONTHS, certain regular-priced gasolines have been implying that they will perform as well as our premium-priced gasoline, Gulf No-Nox.

Actually, that is a long way from being true.

There are three methods most generally used to determine the anti-knock value of a gasoline. These tests are used by us, used by our competitors, and are recognized by everybody in the industry.

On these tests of quality made by an independent laboratory, the regular gasoline, which is making the most to-do about being the equal of Gulf No-Nox, RATED 7 FULL POINTS BELOW GULF NO-NOX!

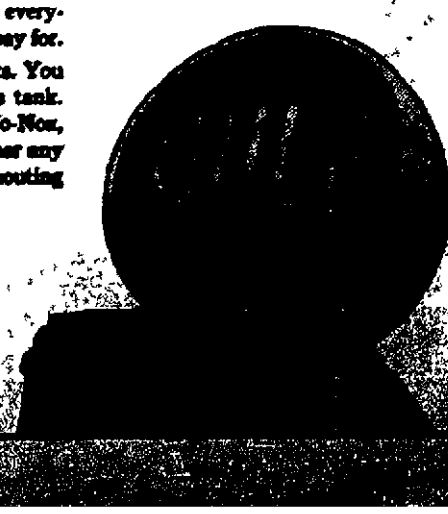
Even a 3-point difference in anti-knock rating is a noticeable difference. This 7-point difference is a BIG difference—gives Gulf No-Nox a major advantage in the high-compression engines you find in the newer cars.

Therefore, don't swallow it hook, line, and sinker, when someone tells you that his regular gas (however much it's been improved!) is as good as improved Gulf No-Nox. It isn't. In gasolines, as in everything else, you get about what you pay for.

These facts aren't just paper facts. You can confirm them in your own gas tank. Next time—try just one tankful of No-Nox, and make up your own mind whether any regular gas, anywhere, is within shouting distance of it!

FREE—"21 WAYS TO SAVE MONEY."

This helpful booklet yours for the asking at your Good Gulf dealer's. Get yours, right away at the Sign of the Gulf Orange Disc!



NO REGULAR GASOLINE—NOT ONE—CAN COMPARE WITH GULF NO-NOX!

Social Affairs

THE home of Mr and Mrs E O Haley of the Edison road was the scene of the marriage of their daughter Josephine to George F. Stafford at 3 30 o clock Sunday afternoon

Baskets of Madonna lilies and pale blue delphinium banked with palms and ferns formed the improvised altar before which the couple stood to repeat the single ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church, read by Dr Edward T Waring pastor of Epworth church

The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a white mousseline de soie gown The waist was button trimmed down the front to the inserts of lace which formed the basque waistline, and the very full skirt extended into a short train. Her bonnet bridal veil was fingertip length, and was held to her head by a cap, fashioned of orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet held white roses showered with delphinium and gypsophila and she wore the bridegroom's gift a small gold heirloom bar brooch

MRS GEORGE F STAFFORD

Preceding the bride down the stairs were her sister, Mrs Howard Tittlebaugh, who was her matron of honor and her bridesmaid Miss Mary Jo Stafford sister of the bridegroom Their gowns fashioned alike of mousseline de soie were in period style Fashioned with low sweetheart necklines and full puffed sleeves the shirred bodices formed a basque effect from which fell the long tiered skirts Mrs Tittlebaugh's gown was in a delicate shade of pink and Miss Stafford was in pastel blue The matron of honor carried pink roses and the bridesmaids flowers were Talisman roses and each wore an initialed locket bearing the date of the wedding a gift of the bride

In lighting the two seven branch candelabra Miss Dora Jane Fields of Bucyrus cousin of the bride wore a floor length gown of pink net

SCOUT CAMPOREE FOR HARDING AREA ENDS

More than 100 Harding Area Boy Scouts completed the third annual area camporee Saturday at Camp John A Owens The scouts met Friday noon were inspected and hiked one mile to the camp where they selected their own camp site

Many different types of camping were displayed by the scouts A number of them slept in pup tents two to a tent while others pitched larger tents capable of housing an entire patrol of eight boys

The scouts furnished all their own food and were graded upon their efficiency in preparing it They were also graded on such phases of camp life as organization planning and cooperation

R M Miller Marion district commissioner was in charge of the camporee which included scouts from Marion Mt Gilead Bucyrus and Upper Sandusky

Members of the staff are preparing the camp for the summer opening July 7 This week is known as pioneer week as each of the 10 staff members prepares his own department for the camp season to follow

NAVY LETS CONTRACT FOR 45 WARSHIPS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 1—The Navy today awarded construction of 45 more warships to cost a total of approximately $500 000 000

The largest single contract letting in navy department history the construction was assigned by Lewis Compton acting secretary after the White House announced that President Roosevelt had signed legislation to speed up the defense program

Officials estimated that this legislation enabling the navy to negotiate contracts without competitive bidding would result in savings of $16 000 000 to $17 000 000— the cost of a cruiser

F. B. I. HOLDING SUSPECT IN MARION AUTO THEFT

A car stolen near Marion early Friday was recovered at Jefferson Iowa Saturday and a man was taken into custody on a charge of auto theft according to a radio message received by the Marion police department

The car a 1937 sedan owned by John Alspach of 144 John street was stolen from in front of a restaurant on Harding Highway West a few hours after Mr Alspach purchased it

Police said the radio message from Iowa stated that the car was recovered by the sheriff of Jefferson county and that a man who gave his name as Paul Jones was arrested and turned over to the FBI for prosecution on a federal charge of driving a stolen car over a state line Officers said that no details were given in the report from Iowa but that a description of the man listed in the message led them to believe he may be not a resident of Marion or else is using an alias

MacDonald - Eddy Team at Palace in Musical Romance

Fans of the Jeanette MacDonald Nelson Eddy team are in for delightful entertainment in their latest musical romance New Moon staying at the Palace today and Tuesday Among unforgettable songs woven into the picture are Lover Come Back to Me One Kiss 'Stout Hearted Men' and Wanting You with Handels Largo sung by Miss MacDonald with a choir

The story of the romance between a French noblewoman and a bond slave has the additional elements of suspense and intrigue It opens in the 1780s on board a ship bound for New Orleans takes in a colorful Mardi Gras and ad ventures on the high seas and winds up on a tropical island where a group led by Eddy set up their own republic from the remnants of a shipwreck Miss MacDonalds gowns are magnificent and the whole production has been staged with no regard for expense

Unusually interesting is the newsreel showing shots of the GOP convention including the speeches nominating Dewey Taft and Willkie and a brief speech by Willkie following his nomination The bill includes a color cartoon A Kick in Time' and is recommended entertainment H H

On Realtors' Convention Program

Above are shown some of the headliners for the thirty-first annual convention of the Ohio State Real Estate convention in Columbus July 8 to 10.

Top row, left to right are John B. Kennedy, noted radio news commentator and Gov. John W. Bricker. They speak at the annual banquet on the evening of July 10.

In the bottom row are John W. Galbreath of Columbus, president of the state association; Louis J. Taber of Columbus, master of the National Grange and Newton C. Farr of Chicago, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Taber addresses the general luncheon at noon July 9. Farr speaks on the afternoon of July 10.

Tests Measure Infiltration of Air Into Home

The national bureau of standards has developed equipment for measuring the volume of air infiltered through window and door clearance openings due to wind pressure. It has been announced recently. The work was undertaken as part of its program for the study of materials and structures suitable for low-cost house construction.

Leakage of cold air into a building through loosely fitted windows and doors, it is pointed out, may have a pronounced effect on the heating load requirements for the building.

Weatherstripping loose window and door clearances and other corrective work easily corrects such conditions.

HOMES INCREASE

Rise in Number and Value of Homes Built in First Quarter

In the first quarter of this year, 61,720 family dwelling units costing $217,110,600 were constructed in cities of 10,000 and greater population, an increase of 3,062 units and $4,010,100 in value over the same period of 1938, economists of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board estimate.

March residential construction was valued at $38,518,400, a gain of $16,261,300 over February and $3,284,200 over March of last year.

WISE BUYING VITAL IN KITCHEN REPAIR

Sound Construction, Efficient Design Are Important.

The housewife who is planning to do over her kitchen on a limited budget should remember that if she plans wisely and buys carefully all the efficiency and practically all of the beauty obtainable in the most expensive installations are hers, builders say.

Modern basic appliances, refrigerator, sink and range are available at surprising low cost if the housewife is willing to forego a few de luxe features.

Efficient design and sound, sturdy construction are the more important considerations.

Cabinets and counters are available at surprisingly low cost if the department stores and lumber yards and with a little ingenuity and a little paint can be made to look as smart as porcelain-finished appliances.

Remarkable advances have been made in the finish, design and layout of steel cabinets. The convenience of the design of new steel cabinets is apparent in the arrangement of well equipped drawers and storage spaces in both base and wall cabinets.

There are 65,000 parts and more than 5 miles of wire in a new electrical accounting machine that is on display. It is 7 feet long, 35 inches wide and 61 inches high.

GARDEN CLINIC

By Victor H. Ries

Extension Floriculturist, Ohio State University

Question Every year when the car is parked under my maple trees there is a sticky substance drops down on it. I would like to know what causes this. Is it harmful to the trees and what is the remedy? Will this kill the trees?

Answer This is usually due to the Norway maple aphid which is on the underside of the leaves throughout the summer. They excrete considerable quantities of honeydew. Although they may occasionally be in sufficient quantities to damage the leaves and cause them to fall in most cases they are not particularly serious. They may be controlled by spraying the undersurface of the leaves in early summer with a Black Leaf 40 and soap spray. Follow the instructions on the container as to dilution.

Q In the fall of 1938 I moved a 2½ inch red oak into my yard refilling the hole with good top soil. The subsoil is practically impervious to water and the drainage from the hole would be very bad. Would this be causing the gradual dying of the tree?

A You will find that most plants resent poor drainage and this is especially true of trees. May I suggest before you plant another tree that you put in a line of farm tile through the bottom of the hole to carry the water off to a lower part of the yard.

Q I am sending you some samples of my privet hedge most of which is dead. Will you please tell me what caused the privet to die and what I can do to prevent it in the future.

A The California privet which you have as a hedge is none too hardy here in Ohio and in severe winters such as the last one you can expect it to be killed partly or entirely back to the ground. It practically always comes back from the roots, however. May I suggest that, if you do wish to replace it, you use some one of the hardy privets such as Amur River, Ibota or Regel.

CONSIDER PERSONAL ELEMENTS IN PLANS

Utility and Transportation Facilities Important Items.

Once the basic neighborhood requirements have been determined by a family selecting a neighborhood for a new home the personal element comes in, according to builders.

When two or three neighborhoods are satisfactory from the stability and tax rates the final standpoint of basic plan design, choice can be made on a basis of personal preference and family convenience. One may be more conveniently located to the place of employment, shopping centers, schools and recreational fields. Transportation facilities may be cheaper and more rapid or the schools preferable in another.

Perhaps the most important matter will be the appearance of the neighborhood and the facilities offered for social life.

Cincinnati Wins Two, Tribe Splits Double Header

Fitzsimmons Wins 199th Major League Victory Over Boston

By BILL WHITE
Associated Press Sports Writer

It will be better all around for the Brooklyn Dodgers when fat Freddie Fitzsimmons wins his 200th major league victory

He chalked up No 199 yesterday—and the Dodgers were so tired from helping him win that one that they dropped the second game to the Boston Bees and lost valuable ground in their wild attempt to catch up to the league leading Cincinnati Reds

Freddie fidgeted through nine innings scattering eight Boston hits winning 9-2 and coming within one game of his long-cherished desire By the second game the Dodgers were dog-tired and Manual Salvo's steady nine hit ter beat them, 7 2

The Reds climbed a game and a half ahead of the Brooks when Bucky Walters pitched and Linus Frey batted them to a 7-4 win over the Cubs in the first game and Eddie Joost came through with a ninth inning single to win the nightcap 7-6

Johnny Rizzo the man nobody wanted earned a spot for himself at Philadelphia when he homered the Phils to a 7-4 victory over the Giants in the first game of their twin bill A six-run uprising in the second game gave that one to the Giants by 7 3

Mort Cooper bested Klinger in a mound duel giving the first game of the St Louis-Pittsburgh duo to the Cards by 1-0 but Max Butcher hurled a four hitter and scored the winning run as the pirates took the nightcap 2 0

The Cleveland Indians tightened their hold on first place in the American League by smashing the Chicago White Sox by 7 5 in the first game of their twin bill but Edgar Smith brought them up sharply with a five hit job in the second game and the Sox won 3 1

The closely pursuing Detroit Tigers didn't help their title chances much when they dropped the first game to St Louis 7 6 although they evened the days count with a 10-1 victory in a seven inning afterpiece

Marvin Breuer pitched the Yankees to their third straight victory over Philadelphia 4 3 in the first game but Monte Pearson bowed to Johnny Babich in the second game 7 2

The Boston Red Sox made good in two chances against the Washington Senators claiming the first one by 6 5 and the second 7 4

Tony's Chin Split by Beer Glass, But He'll Fight

By The Associated Press

JERSEY CITY N J July 1—Apparently a beer glass sailing through the air with the greatest of ease was too small a detail to change Tony Galento must today steel his ability to bolt out Maxie Baer in the local ball park tomorrow night

Tony and Mideap Maxie wound up their training yesterday such as it was but the round gentleman from Orange was around today sporting a bandage on his chin covering a cut brought about by the aforementioned beer glass Complete details were still the secret of today's barroom today but the Newark Star Ledger found witnesses who reported Tony had been having a dispute with his brother Russel who pitched a beer glass at him in a moment of excitement

He received a cut about an inch long they said and was taken to a physicians office for treatment However Mike Jacobs who is promoting tomorrow nights battle of the bums announced today's managers had advised him a little thing like a split chin wouldn't bother Two Ton

The great man himself was heard from today In a telegram to The Associated Press he said I am okay Will fight Max Baer tomorrow night

Tony customarily does his tapering off before a fight in his Orange saloon Photo where he was when Russel asked for a couple of tickets for the fight so the story goes Tony cut him off with a curt see me Tuesday and Russell let fly with the glass

The great Galento hasn't worked much and he looks like a free balloon at 240 pounds—but what of it? He wasn't in real shape for Louis last summer yet he knocked the champ down

Tips On Baseball:

HOW TO PITCH

By BUCKY WALTERS
Cincinnati Reds Ace

First in a series of stories by Stars on How to Play Baseball

By The Associated Press

THE modern baseball pitcher needs more than a fast ball a glove and a prayer Reds faced with the fact that every pitched ball in the big time today is a duel between a batter who knows a bad ball when he sees it and a pitcher who knows that the batter knows it

Which means that the pitcher must have stuff and lots of it But the fast ball is still No 1 requisite After a pitcher has it working he must develop a curve then a change of pace Special pitching tricks like the screwball or sinker ball come later—after long practice

The three chief types of delivery are overhand side arm and underhand Overhand is most generally used and some good pitchers employ all three Although every pitcher uses a slightly different grip and a slightly different delivery there are general pitching fundamentals

Some Standard Details

The ball is usually gripped between the first and second fingers and the thumb The fast ball is usually thrown with a snap of the wrist The curve ball thrown with an outward rotation of the hand and arm spins out of the hand between the thumb and forefinger Both deliveries should look alike as much as possible Wise batters will spot any deviation

A screwball or reverse curve is gripped in much the same manner but is released with an inward rotation of the hand and arm with the wrist snapped a quarter turn inward The ball usually breaks down and inward

For the knuckle ball used a floater for change of pace some pitchers put the joint of the index and second finger on the ball Others use the ends of the same fingers The ball floats up to the plate breaking sharply a few feet in front Many pitchers specialize in this throw and use it very effectively

Next to throwing effectively a pitchers best asset is a retentive memory By being able to remember batters batting habits and weaknesses the pitcher himself can change many potential base hits to weak grounders or pop flies by putting 'em where the batter doesn't like 'em

The Weak Spots

Most vulnerable points of any batter are the four corners of the strike area low outside high outside low inside and high inside An unknown batters stance may tip off a wise pitcher about the hitters weakness

There's a lot of psychology in pitching Some batters can be worried by slow deliberate preparation by the hurler Quick deliveries fool some And the help of a signal thief is invaluable If one of our teammates is wise to the opposing teams signs he can advise the pitcher when to throw a pitch out to catch an intended steal

Fielding from the pitching position is not difficult after the pitcher has learned the one or dinarily few variations in balance and he reads it all times, for an kind of a ball will

REDS TURNING EYES TO CARDINALS AFTER ROUTING CHICAGO

Score Sixth Double Win of Season at Expense of Cubs.

By The Associated Press

ST LOUIS July 1—The pace setting Cincinnati Reds had another double victory under their belts and their hands on the throttle to steam ahead in the National League pennant race as they turned their attention to the Cardinals today

Time was when the Gas Housers held a jinx over the Reds but that was broken last year The Rhinelanders who have taken six games to one over the Cardinals this season called Whitey Moore to the mound against Lon Warneke

The Reds plastered a double kayo on the Cubs in Cincinnati yesterday 7 4 and 7 6 their sixth twin triumph of the season

The Reds big clubs only mildly effective since the season started blasted out 28 safeties against nine Chicago hurlers Fifteen blows were landed in the night cap against five Bruin mounds men

Lonnie Frey started the bombardment with a home run in the first inning of the opener Ival Goodman and Ernie Lombardi brought in three runs in the third with doubles

James Gleeson connected for a homer with the bases loaded in the fifth but Cincinnati scored three more runs in the seventh to give Bucky his tenth victory

In the second game Chicago got two runs in the second and three in the third inning as Bill Nicholson marked up his ninth homer The Cubs scored again in the fourth

CLEVELAND July 1 — The Cleveland Indians perform for the home folks and neighbors tonight under the floodlights of the Cleveland stadium opening a three game series with the St Louis Browns

The league leading Tribe returns home two games ahead of Detroit and three and a half ahead of Boston after splitting a Sunday double header at Chicago It was a great day for the Smiths Al Smith pitched Cleveland to a 7 to 5 victory in the first game Edgar Smith mangled the ball in the second to hurl out a 3 to 1 Chicago equalizer

The Indians slugged the veteran Ted Lyons for 14 hits including a home run by Lou Boudreau They decided the outcome with a four run blast in the fifth inning

Smith got in trouble yielding four hits and two runs in the sixth before flies retired the Sox Again he wobbled for three hits and a run in the ninth but Johnny Allen rescued him

Edgar Smith allowed the Indians only five hits in his game while Al Milnar gave up seven to the Sox One of the latter was a home run by Mike Kreevich in the sixth inning which scored Skeeter Webb also and decided the issue

Joe Dobson is scheduled to pitch tonight against Elden Auker of the Browns

Dempsey Returns to Ring Tonight After Eight Years

By The Associated Press

ATLANTA July 1—Eight years out of the legitimate pugilistic business in which he became a world idol William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey returns to the ring here tonight to settle a grudge with a rough and tumble wrestler from Texas

The opponent of the 45 year-old Manassa Mauler over a scheduled 10 round distance in the local baseball park is Clarence (Cowboy) Luttrell with whom the former heavyweight king has traded blows in his role as a wrestling referee on three occasions

Some 15 000 fans are expected to jam the park for what is whispered inside Dempsey's camp as his second 'comeback' attempt.

EVER HAD A PALM BEACH SUIT?

YES OR NO...

YES OR NO—you're in for a big surprise when you see the 1940 version Still the cool, featherweight, washable suit that's taught a world of men how to beat the heat. But tailored with a new "contoured" collar that hugs the neck Broader shoulders , pucker-proof seams a new inner-finish that keeps the smart lines there for the long life of the suit The fabric, too, is softer, friendlier to the feel—and new developments in color and pattern kill the last visible distinction between heavy worsteds and PALM BEACH. If you're a Palm Beach veteran, you'll be happier than ever with 1940's innovations If you've never worn a PALM BEACH suit, you couldn't pick a better year to begin

Boston Wool

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, July 1—Scattered sales were being closed today in the Boston wool market. Interest in strictly clean wools was largest for fleeces. Territory wools were very slow, but nominal quotations were unchanged from last week. Most of the demand for fleeces was in country-packed lots of three-eighths and quarter blood grades which sold at 59-61 cents in the grease for average bright wools. An occasional buyer was taking fine Delaine at 54-56 cents in the grease for average shrinking wool. Some heavy shrinking fine Delaine was sold at around 52 cents in the grease.

STOCKS START SLOW DECLINE

Traders Find Little Inspiration in War, Political Or Business News Today.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 1—Stock market leaders went into a slow decline today as traders were unable to find much buying inspiration in news of war, politics or business.

Bonds were a bit shaky, as were commodities. "Free" sterling dipped in terms of the dollar.

Among shares inclined to give ground were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Sears Roebuck, Eastman Kodak, Westinghouse, Johns-Manville, Texas Corp., Phelps Dodge and Public Service of N. J.

One market commentator pointed out that the domestic trade picture for the last half of 1940 may be determined mainly on whether the European conflict continues.

Coppers were forced to contend with doubts voiced by observers that Great Britain would assume the bulk of French contracts for the defined metal in this country.

9 DRIVERS IN AREA ARRESTED

Police and Patrol Busy Over Week-End; 3 Fined at Cardington.

Nine motorists were arrested by police and state patrolmen in Marion and vicinity over the week-end, among them three truck drivers taken into custody at Cardington on charges of driving overloaded trucks.

Eugene Jordan, 23, of 609 West Columbia street was arrested by city police early Sunday on a charge of speding and reckless driving on Leader street. He pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Hazen this morning and was fined $10 and costs.

Roscoe G. Groll, 37, of Waldo was arrested by the state patrol south of Marion on Route 23 Saturday night on a charge of parking on the highway without lights. He was fined $15 and costs this morning when he pleaded guilty before Judge Hazen.

Traffic Light Charges

Frederick Wood, 22, of 845 Bennett street and Howard Elsass, 22, of near Waynesboro were arrested by police on charges of failing to stop for a traffic light at East Center and Greenwood streets. Elsass, who was arrested early today, posted a $3 bond which was declared forfeited when he failed to appear in court later. Wood was taken into custody Saturday afternoon and was fined $3 when he entered a plea of guilty in municipal court this morning.

Albert F. Herr, 65, of Groveport, O., was arrested Saturday afternoon near Waldo by the state patrol on a charge of permitting his grandson, Richard Dill, 14, of Groveport, to drive without a state driver's license. He posted $10 bond which was declared forfeited when he failed to appear in court today.

Mrs. Ocie Camp, 46, of Meridian, Miss., was arrested by police Saturday night on a charge of driving a car bearing license plates issued to another car. She pleaded guilty before Judge Hazen this morning and was fined $25 and costs. Later $15 of the fine was suspended when Mrs. Camp transferred the license plates to the proper car.

Fined at Cardington

Arrested by the state patrol on the overloaded truck charges at Cardington were: David Hess, 35, of Akron; William McMillan, 30, of Akron; and Francis Blessing, 26, of Detroit, Mich. All pleaded guilty before Mayor Frank Allgh of Cardington and were fined $25 and costs each. State patrolmen said the Hess truck, loaded with lamp black, and the McMillan truck, hauling liquor, were each one ton overweight and that the Blessing truck, loaded with truck motors, was two tons overweight.

NEW WHEAT SENDS PRICES LOWER TODAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 1—Increasing flow of new wheat to market helped to depress wheat values during most of the session today but after the lowest quotations in ten months had been recorded prices recovered all of the loss and pushed upward to gains of almost a cent a bushel.

Government flour purchases and the fact that large quantities of new wheat were being stored for government loans tended to support the market and when selling diminished prices rallied easily.

Wheat closed ⅛-⅜ cent higher than Saturday, July 74⅞-75, September 75½-¾; corn ¼-¾ up, July 60½, September 58-57⅞, oats ¼-⅞ higher.

61 YEARS TOO OLD

By United Press

NEWPORT, Ark.—W. Yick, of Kousas City, Mo., approached the Jackson county treasurer to obtain cash for county scrip. The warrant was issued in 1870. It was worn by long handling but still was legible. It was 61 years too old to be of value.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

A Ride In Disguise to the Rendezvous of Leslie's Gang.

THERE was a note of anxiety in Mrs. Tiver's voice which I knew no answer I could give to her query would allay. So I made my response as quick and as nonchalant as possible.

"No, we shan't need Jim," I said, having determined beforehand that, while it might be all right for Lillian and me to take the risks of hiding near the rendezvous of my father's men with Jack Leslie, that we might be near if any danger threatened our husbands, it would be something altogether different if we permitted Jim to go along with us into peril. "But I want him to stay here until we get back. Then if the car is missed, they'll think Jim has come over here for supplies. I haven't time to explain now, but you'll know all about it later."

"I want to go with you," Jim said, looking me directly in the eyes. "Your father wouldn't want me to let you and Mrs. Underwood go off by yourselves this way."

"I'm sorry, Jim," I said firmly, "but it's impossible. Please don't delay us."

I turned to the station wagon, and climbed to the seat behind the wheel, while Lillian dashed to the other side and clambered in beside me. I backed the car around, and when it was headed toward the gate, I spoke to Mrs. Tiver who had come to my side of the car.

Disguises Perfect

"Please don't try to keep us, or change our minds," I said softly. "We must go, and I'm sure we'll be back again shortly. But tell us first. If you didn't know us so well, and met our car with us in it dressed this way would you think we were men or women?"

She swept us critically with her eyes.

"Men!" she said succinctly. "But don't get out of the car if you want to fool anybody. Your feet would give you away. And I'd pull up those scarfs a bit more about your faces. It's a mite cool-ish today—so it'll look natural."

"Thank you," I said. "Don't worry, and good day!"

Purposely, I did not say "good bye," and I sent the car away on the last word. We adjusted our scarves as Mrs. Tiver had suggested, while I kept the car in slow motion. And then, at Lillian's comment of "All set," I sent the car along the road at a swift pace.

"Have you any particular objective?" Lillian asked.

"Yes. From something I overheard, I know that the rendezvous of Leslie's men with the emeralds, and my father's men with the impersonators of Noel and Mary, will be on an almost deserted road that branches off from this one about two miles down. I've been down that road, looking for native plants for my garden, and I know of a wood road, not much more than a path, which branches off from it. I thought I'd jockey the car into that wood road far enough so it would be hidden. Then we could steal down and hide ourselves in the underbrush, where we can see everything without being seen, and help Dicky and Harry if the opportunity arises."

A Fool-Proof Scheme

"We'd better be pretty sure it's an opportunity to help instead of hinder," Lillian commented grimly. "But it looks like a pretty foolproof scheme to me. Here's hoping we don't meet any of Leslie's gang before we get settled. They are probably giving all cars the once over, and we don't want to rouse any suspicions."

"Of course not," I answered, and spoke no more, devoting all my faculties to getting every bit of speed consistent with safety out of the station wagon. But luck was with us, and we met no car at all during our journey, nor did Lillian report anybody behind us.

When we reached the narrow road named as the rendezvous, I wood road leading from the one turned the station wagon half way around.

"I'll have to back in," I explained, "for I have no idea where I could get out of it again, and it would be an impossibility to turn around in it. Will you go to the back and guide me? It's going to be a ticklish job — this thing is wide, and it probably will need a paint job by the time I get through."
